ABSTRACT

This compilation of tables presents information on public school enrollment for the 1996-97 school year with comparative information for the 1995-1996 school year. Tables present information on school enrollments by state, with 1-year comparisons of total state enrollments for the two school years in alphabetical order, in descending order by variance, and in descending order by percent variance. School enrollment increases by county are also presented with 1-year comparisons for the 2 school years (by 1,000 students or more) in descending order by variance and in descending order by variance for each state. Other tables present state enrollment comparisons for 5-year periods in descending order by variance and in descending order by variance within each state. A glance at state enrollments shows that enrollment decreased in very few states (Kansas, Kentucky, West Virginia, and Wyoming). Nationwide enrollment increased from 44,374,968 students in 1995-96 to 45,179,823 students in 1996-97, a 1.81% variance. California was the state with the greatest increase in total students, while Nevada was the state with the greatest percent of variance, indicated by a 6.81% increase. (Contains 10 tables.) (SLD)
